

Wisdom from the Grace of God

A Center for Enlightenment

Helping awakened souls heal

Channeled by Rev Maggie Chula

Wisdom from the Grace of God

We are all connected through the vibration to Source

We are all connected through the vibration and the love of God. God's grace will help you to connect up to your source vibration and receive guidance to heal and grow as a spiritual being. When we are connected to the source vibration, we sense the energy of love. We sense the meaning of this word and we understand it comes with companions such as compassion, acceptance, grace and ease.

As we grow into our new vibrational state as embodied souls, we are more aware when we are missing or lacking in one of these vibrations. We know what they feel like when we are one with God, which then helps our mind to identify when these feelings are missing from our life. Or missing within a relationship we share with another.

Knowing we are one with the creator helps to ignite our desire for meaningful conversations with someone around the subject of being spiritually aware of life beyond this experience we are having today.

Flow within this vibration of light

Flow within this vibration of light. As you flow and let go of your worries and your struggles, as you stay in the vibration of grace and ease and light and open up to fun and happy and joyful, all those things help you expand out into the knowingness that love is indeed all around.

It's these struggles, these perceptions of time; I am this age, I should have this. I have so much in my life, why isn't there love?

Take the first step and breathe

If you look, if you take a step back, take those breaths we're always asking you to take.

- Breathe in and know, "Yes, I am connected to the light of God."
- Breathe in and understand, "Yes, I do have a light vibration within me, within my heart."
- Breathe in and flow in a state of grace and ease.
- Grace, grateful. Grace, happy. Grace acceptance.

Flowing within that level of thought, of emotion, of vibration, you allow yourself to open and see the love that is indeed all around you.

Wisdom from the Grace of God

Take physical steps to ground

When you go out and you walk outside, feel the loving vibration from mother earth. Can you see and hear her birds laughing, chirping, existing? Loving being in this vibration?

Watch the squirrels. They love. They love. They play. They're happy! They're joyful!

Sense the trees. When you go out into nature and just allow yourself to commune, it feels so graceful. It feels so happy, peaceful, in a state of light and love.

We are all connected through the oneness

For all these things are connected. I know my brother and sisters have come forth to share their understanding in multiple levels and ways of love. What it means. How can you have it? Why do you want it?

All kinds of noise exist. Information exists. Be careful.

The wisdom of Grace is shared with us

I, Grace, share:

Do you remember?

Do you know how to move into that state of grace and oneness?

Move into that state with me now.

Allow yourself to just breathe in the light and love of your soul.
Breathe in that breath of life.

Allow yourself to just let go of any, everything, so you're here with me in this state of grace. Here with me just listening to words, feeling my vibration, sensing I am with you.

I am expanding that energy of you as I add my vibrational knowing that grace and ease and flow and abundance are all around.
And they are with you if you open up and accept them.

Wisdom from the Grace of God

If you open up and share your desire,

a desire to feel grace, feel the love of God, feel in control of your life for you are flowing within the boundaries of your life force.

Grace is knowing you share love with people.

Even when at times it feels like you would rather not even talk to them.
Still you feel with the grace and the love of ease,
of knowing that person needs you more now when you feel a resistance.

So open your heart and let yourself flow.

Let that heart vibration flow out from you.
Let it flow out from you and cover you in your very own heart vibration of love.

As you surround yourself in your loving heart

bring others in your world, into this vision with you.
Bring those that you love dearly, openly, easily.
Bring those you love, you support, but sometimes they make your shoulders cringe a little.
Sometimes it feels being in their vibration is uneasy.
Bring them into this vibration of love and ease and flow.

Let that vibration multiply all around you.

Flowing from you to them.
Flowing from God the creator to both of you.
Sensing my vibration of grace and ease and light,
lifting you, merging you, helping smooth out all the knots.
Smooth out all those places that have irritating noises or sounds or irritating thoughts.
Move them out.

Feel and hear the angelic sphere.

Sense the lightness all around you.
Stay and ask to be in a state of grace.

Wisdom from the Grace of God

Prayer for love, grace, and ease

Dear God,

I pray for the wisdom to know your divine grace flows all around me.
I pray I will remain in connection with this vibration of ease, light and love.

As I go through my day I will share the best of me.
I will stay in a state of grace and ease
knowing love is all around and I am a part of this vibration.

I contribute my essence to the vibration of love, grace, ease, and flow.

Love, grace, ease, flow is my constant affirmation.

Remind me to stay in the state of oneness and grace,
when I start to pull away from your vibration.

Allow me to know when I need a mental break to once again feel your love, grace, and ease flowing to me, flowing through me.

I will look for the best way to share this grace, love and ease with others.

Use me as an instrument of your divine light and allow me to be a channel of light, love, grace and ease for others.

Thank you for always showing me,
I am a part of your divine vibration.

Thank you for the daily blessings of life.

Wisdom from the Grace of God

Listen to the original channel

We have placed a copy of our original podcast for this channeled message on our educational website, akashicvibration.com. You will find this within our free Awaken membership area. Look under Master Teachers on the menu. They are listed alphabetically.

Company: Acenterforenlightenment.com
Education / Store: Akashicvibration.com
Blog: MaggieChula.com